

Our establishment started since 1926 in Italy. We have gradually stabilized exclusivesuits.com despite the under developed technology during those times. After we got recognized due to our proficiency our company started distributing locally, then subsequently worldwide. There were well-wheeled competitors during those times, but we modestly managed to be integrated and be part of the fashion industry, mentioning also being singled out as one of the largest factories in Italy. Having been chosen as one of the best quality among from the major textile mills.

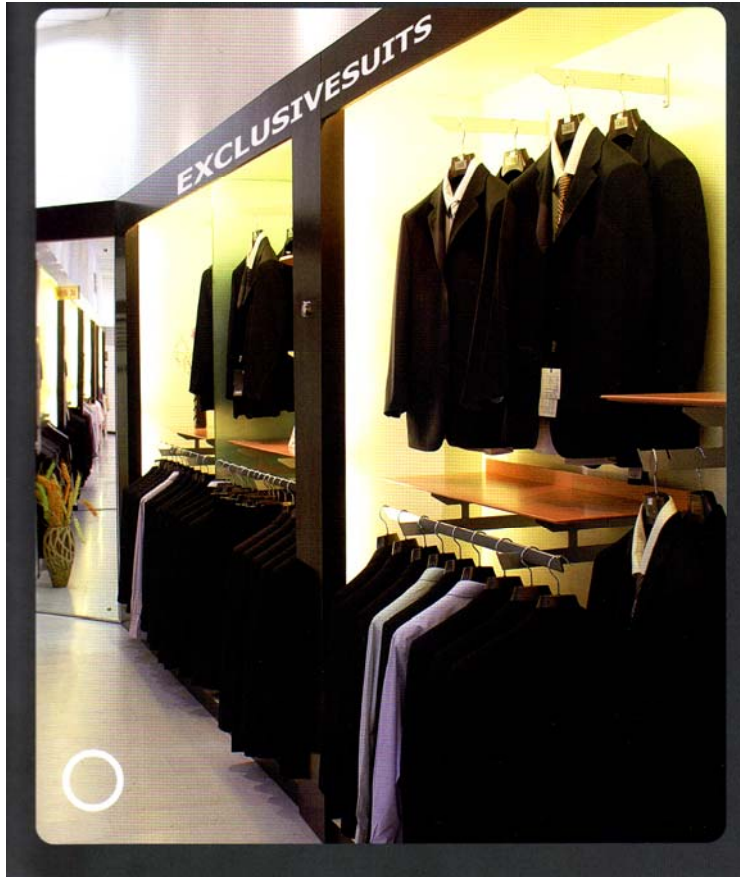

With our 1200 and still ever-increasing staff with a full set of internationally advanced garment equipments, our assembly line up covers an area of 260,000 square meter structure area in Italy.

The yearly production of suits maximizes up to 326,000 sets. And the production staff virtually inspects each stitch for quality control, which goes with the whole manufacturing procedure abroad.

exclusivesuits.com are directly manufacturing distributors in the United States. Our establishment has managed to work without a salesman, and for the most part dealing with us directly, but yet having been able to gain positive feedback, mainly because we are able to supply the finest for less. Our headquarters' showroom and warehouse is conveniently sited in beautiful sunny business district of Los Angeles California. Generally, shipments from Italy arrive by air, assuring you of the freshest stock available. In addition to have the fastest delivery service, guaranteed to be shipped same day.
